High Court Gets Pleas In GI Case

Girard Attorneys Fight To Prevent Trial By Japanese

By PAUL M. YOST
WASHINGTON (AP)—Newlywed GI William S. Girard gets an unusual four hours of attention from the Supreme Court today in his fight to avoid trial by a Japanese civil court for fatally wounding a Japanese woman.

Prompt surrender of the American soldier to Japan is urged by government attorneys to ease "international friction" and prevent "great embarrassment" they say would result if this government were prevented from carrying out its commitment to Japan.

Claim "Sacrifice" Move
But attorneys for Girard say he is being sacrificed to appease Japanese agitators and thus is a victim of what they call a "political decision" by the U.S. government. His attorneys want the Supreme Court to order Girard's release from Army custody at once, since no charge has been filed against him by the military.

Girard, an Army specialist third class from Ottawa, Ill., is confined to Camp Whittington, a U.S. Army base 60 miles from Tokyo, where he was married last week to the former Haru (Candy) Sueyama.

Girard has described as an accident the fatal shooting of Mrs. Naka Sakai on a firing range in Japan where Girard and another soldier had been assigned to guard a machine gun. The woman was shot in the back with an empty cartridge case fired from a grenade launcher.

He also has denied Japanese charges that he tossed some empty cartridges toward the woman and enticed her to come closer before shooting.

Atty. Gen. Brownell asked reversal of a decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy here that the government could not turn Girard over to Japan.

McGarraghy said the soldier was on official duty at the time of the shooting last Jan. 30.

If Girard is subject to prosecution, McGarraghy ruled, it must be before a U.S. military court-martial as called for by the U.S. Uniform Code of Military Justice.

But Brownell contended the decision of the executive branch of government—approved by President Eisenhower—to compel Girard to go on trial before a Japanese civil court is not unreasonable or capricious and is not subject to interference by federal courts.

"Has No Immunity"
Under the U.S. Constitution the respondent (Girard) has no personal immunity from prosecution by Japan for the killing of a Japanese national on Japanese territory," the government said in a brief filed last week.

Girard's release to the Japanese was ordered under an executive agreement with Japan which (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Mishap Toll Hits 719 On Long Holiday

By The Associated Press
More than 700 persons were killed in violent accidents during the long Independence Day holiday period. Traffic deaths, far below the predicted 535, led the staggering toll.

The count for the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. July 3 to last midnight showed 419 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents. Drownings took 201 lives and miscellaneous accidents 99, for an over-all total of 719.

Later reports were expected to boost the total.

The highway fatalities compared with the record traffic toll for a Fourth of July period of 491 set during the four-day holiday in 1955. The National Safety Council, in a preholiday statement, had estimated this year's toll would reach 535.

The over-all total compared with 805 accidental deaths in a three-day Fourth of July holiday observance in 1955, a record for the period. The all-time record in accidents of all types is 884, set during a four-day Christmas holiday period in 1956. The total included 706 traffic fatalities, also an all-time high for any holiday.

The traffic toll for the one-day observance last Fourth of July was 137. Seventy-seven persons drowned and 39 others were killed in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 253.

Storms Rake Plains Area, Middle West

By The Associated Press
More hot and showery weather, with storms in some areas, was the outlook for most of the country today.

It was a muggy night in many areas after yesterday's hot and humid weather but a little cooling appeared in sight for some regions.

Thunderstorms broke during the night and early morning in the warm, humid air pushing northward over the upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region. Severe storms hit some areas. Hail and heavy showers were reported from eastern Nebraska through southern Minnesota and northern Iowa.

Wind gusts up to 81 m.p.h. lashed Grand Island, Neb. Damaging wind and hail storms also struck areas in Michigan. Severe weather warnings were posted throughout the early morning, with the end indicated as cooler air from the Plains displaced the humid air in the upper Mississippi Valley.

A warming trend was reported in most areas east of the Mississippi Valley, with highest temperatures in the steamy air in the Great Lakes region.

Brock said the incident occurred while he was on a vacation trip to the home of his parents near Prattville in Autauga County.

Europe Heat Wave Deaths Soar To 130

LONDON (AP)—Europe's known heat wave deaths soared to 130 today.

Temperatures dropped a bit in northern Europe, but Italy sizzled in the hottest weather there since World War II. Some readings were around 100 degrees Fahrenheit.

Fifteen inmates died in a night of horror at a home for the aged in Venice. All were elderly and under treatment for heart disease or other infirmities. All but two were women. The deaths were among 38 in Italy blamed on the heat.

In the Milan industrial area, factories shut at noon for four hours as an emergency measure.

About 20 persons died in Austria yesterday while bathing. Countless others collapsed in downtown Vienna a young woman, apparently heat-stricken, was rushed to a first aid station after drooling on the street.

Budapest was short of water. Supplies failed altogether in some higher parts of the Hungarian capital.

Thunderstorms have punctuated the heat wave in Britain, where at least five persons died in the hot weather.

Kasper Trial Opens In Knoxville Court

Group Faces U. S. Charges As Test Set

Former Maryland Jurist Among 22 Defense Lawyers

By RELMAN MORIN
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The history-making trial of the "Clinton 15" and segregationist John Kasper opens today in an atmosphere electric with the whole vast controversy over civil rights.

Lawyers and the city are thronging with them-pointed to these implications in the case:

1. It is the first great test of the federal government's power to enforce the Supreme Court's order to the public schools to act with "all deliberate speed" to end segregation.

Juror Test Expected
2. It may throw some light on the question of whether white jurors will convict persons involved in civil rights cases—an issue now being debated in Congress.

Constitutional questions and the boundaries of federal and state authority also will be debated in the trial in U. S. District Court.

"We are going to fight this out to the bitter end," said Ross Barnett of Jackson, Miss., a defense attorney. Barnett is former president of the Mississippi Bar and a twice-defeated candidate for governor.

"If you don't want an oak tree to grow pluck the acorn out of the ground," said Judge George Washington Williams of Baltimore. A former federal district judge and ardent "states' rights" man, Williams argues that the Supreme Court decision is "not absolute," and can be reversed.

They are 22 of the 22 lawyers whose names are associated with the defense.

Kasper and 15 other persons, including two women, are charged with criminal contempt.

Result Of Disturbances
The charge grew out of disturbances at Clinton, Tenn., last autumn and again in November and December, when 12 Negro students were brought into the previously all-white high school.

Kasper, born in New Jersey, was accused of fomenting the disturbances in August, when the Negro students were first admitted to the high school. He was convicted of criminal contempt for violating Federal Judge Robert L. Taylor's injunction against interfering with the integration of the school.

Taylor sentenced him to a year in prison and a fine of $1,000.

Ike Flies Back To White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower flew back to Washington today from an extended holiday weekend at his farm home near Gettysburg, Pa.

Taking off from the Gettysburg airport at 7:15 a.m. in his light two-engine plane, the President reached National Airport here at 7:43 a.m. He was accompanied by his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder.

Eisenhower had been at the farm since Wednesday evening, getting in some golf every day except yesterday.

Widow Of Coolidge Succumbs At Home

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—Grace Goodhue Coolidge, 78, widow of Calvin Coolidge, 30th president of the United States, died early today at her home.

A physician said heart disease and a general weakening condition was the cause of death.

Mrs. Coolidge had been in a hospital twice in the past year, returning home last March 7.

Her son, John, was at her residence when she died at 12:50 a.m. He had stopped last night while en route from Vermont to his Farmington, Conn., home with his family.

After taking his family to Connecticut, John returned to be with his mother who had been under constant nursing care for months.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

Burial will be in Plymouth, Vt., where her husband and a son, Calvin Jr., who died at age 16, are interred.

During the booming "normalcy" years—1923 through 1928—Mrs. Coolidge brought to the White House warm-hearted graciousness complementing her husband's austerity.

While shunning all but the edges of the limelight that forever beats upon the presidency, she succeeded in adding to the popularity of her laconic husband.

In an era in which frugality was becoming increasingly unfashionable, she accommodated herself to Calvin Coolidge's thrift without herself acquiring a reputation for being penurious.

She brought to her marriage a good background of intelligence and education, but always deferred to her husband's political sagacity. Disclaiming any knowledge of how a government should be run, she refrained throughout (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Ex-Premier Under Fire In Coercion

B&K Leave Soviet For Prague Visit As Charges Mount

By ROY ESSOYAN
MOSCOW (AP)—Ominous-sounding charges piled up today against former Premier Georgi Malenkov and the so-called anti-party group ousted in the latest Kremlin purge. But Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin flew off to red-ruled Czechoslovakia in an atmosphere of confidence and gaiety.

The latest charge against Malenkov came from a Leningrad party leader who accused Stalin's former right-hand man of trying to force him to sign a forgery.

This was only one voice in a swelling chorus of condemnation which already has branded Malenkov the chief organizer of Stalin's 1949 Leningrad purge. For participation in that, several security officials were executed in December 1954.

Czechs Hail Action
The Communist parties of the Soviet orbit joined the chorus of damnation. In Prague, with Khrushchev and Bulganin due, the official party newspaper Rude Pravo hailed "the liquidation of the anti-party group" headed by Malenkov and V. M. Molotov.

"The Soviet comrades come to a country which will never leave the barricades of communism, where the red flag is raised by the Soviet Union," Rude Pravo said. "Our meetings with the Soviet leaders will result in absolute agreements which will demonstrate a strengthening of the partnership of the Socialist state on all fundamental questions."

The Communist leadership of Czechoslovakia has been considered the most persistently Stalinist of the entire East European bloc.

Originally, Bulganin and Khrushchev were to have gone to Prague by train, a 36-hour trip. They shifted plans and went by plane, a matter of a few hours. They may stop over in Warsaw.

Prague radio said they are due in Prague tomorrow.

Behind them in Moscow, the party piled up its case against Malenkov, Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and the other targets of the purge. Former President Nikolai Shvernik joined Khrushchev in the top-level condemnation. In the wake of this, a Leningrad party official insisted Malenkov tried to force him to be party to a forgery.

The alleged coercion attempt took place in Leningrad in 1949 and apparently was part of the case in which several top Communists were illegally executed.

Avantury P. Beria and victor Lavrenty P. Beria and victor assistants in the Soviet secret police, were subsequently shot for their part in the case.

I. N. Turko charged in a Leningrad speech made public today that Malenkov "persistently endeavored to force me to sign a forgery, a statement I knew was a forgery."

Says He Was Threatened
When all Malenkov's efforts failed, Turko said, "I was threatened." (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Ingrid, Daughter Have Reunion At Airport In Paris

PARIS (AP)—Ingrid Bergman had a tearful reunion today with her daughter Jenny Ann Lindstrom—their first meeting since 1951.

They met aboard the airliner that brought 19-year-old Jenny Ann from Stockholm.

Miss Bergman went on the plane at Le Bourget after all the other passengers had left. Jenny Ann waited aboard the plane.

After 12 minutes mother and daughter emerged and burst into smiles. However, smudged makeup and reddened eyes showed that both had been crying.

Jap Group Stages Protest, Confers With U. S. Envoy

TOKYO (AP)—Fifty-four Japanese staged a protest today against the handling of the Girard case.

Police said the group came in a noisy bus and sound truck from Sogahara, scene of the shooting Jan. 30 on a firing range that has precipitated a major controversy over foreign trials of U.S. servicemen.

Kyodo news service said the demonstrators included representatives of the Gumbata state Communist party but police could not confirm this.

After a half-hour stop at the embassy, the group moved on to the Justice Ministry to demand that Japanese jurisdiction over the soldier not be waived.

Cops Slugged In Detroit Negro Area 'Free-For-All'

DETROIT (AP)—Nineteen persons, including eight policemen, were injured last night in two fights that developed out of police efforts to stop what they called an unauthorized street gathering in the Negro district on Detroit's East Side.

Police received reports that between 200 and 300 "unruly people" were blocking a street corner where a Negro soapbox orator was making a speech on racial issues.

Police Sgt. Max Neundorff said he told the speaker, Elijah Walder, 29, that no permit had been obtained for the meeting and mobilized and moved into the area on a standby basis.

Hildy Adoption Case Nears End

Florida Board Says Foster Parents Worthy People

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A long legal struggle for the foster parents of 6-year-old Hildy McCoy was expected to end today with a Circuit Court ruling on whether they can adopt the cute, freckle-faced child.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ellis have had Hildy with them almost from her birth. The 45-year-old foster father and his wife, 35, are Jewish. Hildy was born to a Roman Catholic mother.

The State of Massachusetts and Hildy's natural mother, Mrs. Marjorie McCoy Doherty of Hingham, Mass., want Hildy brought up by a Catholic family.

A Massachusetts law provides that children shall be raised in the faith of their natural parents. Both the state and Mrs. McCoy served notice last week that they would be represented in court today.

During all the controversy, which has evoked numerous comments from churchmen and laymen on the religious and human implications involved, Hildy has been pretty much shielded from close contact with the dispute.

She was expected to appear today with the Ellises, however, under the presiding justice's policy of giving children attend adoption proceedings.

The Florida State Welfare Board has found the foster parents "good and worthy people" and has recommended that they be allowed to adopt Hildy.

The Ellises six weeks ago won a momentous round in their fight to keep Hildy when Florida Gov. Leroy Collins refused to extradite them to Massachusetts to face technical charges of kidnapping.

Ellis gave up his business in Boston and fled Massachusetts with his wife and Hildy more than two years ago rather than comply with court rulings that he must give up the child.

The couple lived in Maine and New York, with Ellis working at a variety of jobs to support the three.

Cannon Looks For Increased Budget Slash

WASHINGTON (U)—Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House Appropriations Committee said today Congress still may cut five billion dollars from presidential money requests this year "if the Senate and the public stand firm."

That was the goal of budget cutters when the present session started six months ago and President Eisenhower said he wanted $73,000,000,000 in new appropriations.

But, Cannon said in an interview, there are signs that the Senate is weakening in its earlier stand against increasing amounts voted by the House in appropriations bills. He suggested that the public continue insisting on sharp reductions.

"The House intends to stand firm on its reductions," he said, "but there are times when you must give in if the Senate is equally insistent on increases. The bills must be passed."

Fourteen regular and special money bills have been passed by both branches of Congress. The Senate has cut 71 million dollars and added $1,065,000,000 to amounts originally voted by the House for a net boost of close to a billion dollars.

Largest Senate-voted increase was 972 million dollars in the defense appropriation bill, which now is before a Senate-House conference committee.

Cannon said that total cuts of $4,182,500,000 voted by the House to date to demonstrate that the five-billion-dollar goal could be reached by the House on bills still to come. These include bills financing the foreign aid program, the Atomic Energy Commission and several other big federal activities.

But, in view of the Senate's action on the defense bill, he said he was pessimistic about the size of the final cut when all the bills have become law.

gives that country the right to try U.S. servicemen for offenses in certain instances. The United States retains jurisdiction in other cases.

Attorneys for Girard contended in a brief that the agreement itself was in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

"Any action taken by the executive branch of government under the agreement is illegal and void," they argued.

The brief said the Girard case had caused serious impairment in the morale of American troops all over the world, and declared "vast legal problems" now confront servicemen as well as government officials because of the government's decision.

The attorneys for Girard also argued in the brief that the American GI would not receive a fair trial in Japanese court.

Four Perish In Boat Fall

HUNTSVILLE, Ont. (U)—A Hamilton woman, her infant granddaughter and two other children were drowned yesterday when a motorboat carrying seven persons went over a 40-foot dam.

The identified dead were Mrs. Margaret Gillie, 68, and two young relatives, Peter and John Bailey, 14 and 12. Bystanders pulled the boys' parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Melville Bailey of Hamilton, and another baby granddaughter of Mrs. Gillie's from the water.

Police said the two babies in the boat were named Anne and Margaret, but that survivors were still too upset to tell them which was drowned.

Virginia Vote By Democrats Will Be Light

By The Associated Press

Virginia's Democrats dispense with what is expected to be the dull and formal business of a state-wide primary tomorrow.

Contests for 22 in a total of 27 House of Delegates seats in 13 districts and a state-wide gubernatorial run-off is expected to draw in the neighborhood of 200,000 voters in a 13-hour period of balloting, 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., local time.

In other districts candidates for the party nomination are either unopposed or have been nominated by convention methods and can turn their attention to the general elections in November.

A few noteworthy exceptions to the routine tomorrow are foreseen in such diverse areas of the state as Alexandria, where there is a stiff fight on tap for the city's lone House seat; in Norfolk, where a three-man slate is campaigning to break up the six-man incumbent bid for re-election and in Richmond, where there are twice as many candidates as there are House seats—seven—available.

The ballot itself will be unique in that it will list the name of a man for a high state post who no longer is a candidate. Since the ballots had to be printed well in advance, the name of Howard C. Gilmer Jr. of Pulaski appears as an unopposed candidate for attorney general.

Gilmer's sudden withdrawal created an awkward gap in the Democrat ranks for just a few days. Two other candidates have stepped up to fill the vacancy but their names cannot appear on a ballot until November.

On a state-wide basis tomorrow Ally. Gen. Lindsay Almond Jr. is expected to hurdle his primary obstacle, a bid by Richmond Attorney Howard C. Carville, with ease and win his party's nomination for governor.

The party candidate for lieutenant governor, incumbent A. E. Stephens, is unopposed.

Almond, who has picked up the tempo of his primary campaign of late, issued a weekend statement in which he expressed unqualified support for the present administration's course in the fight to preserve racial segregation in schools in Virginia.

In so doing, Almond seemed to be triggering an attack against Republican candidate Ted Dalton and looking ahead to November rather than concentrating on primary votes.

New Uses For Coal Supply Listed In Congress Study

WASHINGTON (U)—A bulky report representing the findings of a special congressional committee studying new uses for the nation's coal supply is in the final drafting stage, Rep. Saylor (R-Pa.) said today.

The report, expected to recommend intensified research into possible new uses for coal, is based on material presented at hearings conducted last winter by the House subcommittee on coal research.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Edmondson (D-Okla.), was created by a resolution introduced originally by Saylor. The group's final report, Saylor said, may be ready in another week or two.

Saylor, who represents a Pennsylvania district which has been the tapering off of the coal industry in the last generation, journeyed with the subcommittee for hearings at Ebersburg and Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Abingdon, Va.; Henrietta, Okla.; and Pueblo, Colo.

The committee sifted testimony from management, labor and research agencies. Hearings were held previously in Washington.

Saylor said the report will concern what is to be done about the future of the coal industry, what research into new uses has been done, what is being done now and how to avoid duplication in this field.

Although details of the report are being kept secret for the present it was learned that one point at issue is whether to recommend government subsidies to private industry for research into new uses for coal.

In recent years, the federal government has intensified its own research program on coal and other

Texan Slays Ex-Wife And Shoots Self

HOUSTON, Tex. (U)—A 25-year-old father, apparently maddened because his young former wife would not remarry him, shot and killed her and then took his own life yesterday, police reported.

Dead were Billy James Morrow and Mrs. Norma Cathy Morrow, 21.

The shootings occurred in Mrs. Morrow's garage apartment while the divorced couple's 2-year-old son Jimmy looked on from his high chair, officers said.

Detective W. C. Doss said two witnesses, Mrs. Morrow's roommate, Doris June Warneke, 25, and a friend of hers, Airman Clinton D. Weldner, 26, Ellington Air Force Base, gave this account:

Morrow had taken the child for the afternoon and was returning him to the mother when he asked her to remarry him.

When she refused, Morrow went to his car and brought back a toy truck for their child. As he was showing Mrs. Morrow how to operate the truck he pulled a .38-caliber revolver from his shirt and fired at her.

The witnesses, who were preparing supper in the kitchen, saw the shooting through the door.

They ran to the front room just as Morrow stuck the pistol into his mouth and fired.

Speedy Justice
Prevails In Court

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—Municipal Judge Mike Foster had to call a recess because his court was turned into a track meet. A defendant suddenly broke away and ran from the courtroom. Five officials gave chase and the man was caught several blocks away. "I had to order a recess," the judge explained, "because everybody was too pooped to testify."

Five Persons In State
Meet Violent Deaths

Five deaths on the final day increased to eight Maryland's accidental death toll for the long Independence Day weekend.

Sunday's fatalities, before the midnight end of the holiday weekend which began at 6 p.m. Wednesday, included three drownings—two near Annapolis and one on the Eastern Shore.

In addition, firemen and rescue workers dragged the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal near Glen Echo in Montgomery County in a search for a 15-year-old boy whose clothes were found on the shore. Park police said Morton R. Miller, the boy sought, had been missing from his home in Washington.

The weekend deaths included: Marine Pvt. Ronald Blackwell, 17-year-old Negro stationed at Quantico, Va., killed Sunday night when a car in which he and three other Marines were riding slammed into the rear of a tractor-trailer on U.S. 1 two miles south of Laurel.

Mrs. Margie Wells, 17, of Hillside, Md., killed in a two-car collision Sunday in Maryland Park, Prince Georges County, while riding in a car with her husband, Edward, 18.

Charles Edgar Collins, 34, of Baltimore, drowned while fishing in the Severn River near Annapolis. He had playfully jumped from a boat twice and drowned when he tried it a third time. Holmes S. Heimert, 47, of Sherwood Forest, Md., who swam almost to shore of the Severn River before drowning. He had fallen from a rowboat. The body was recovered by firemen after about 45 minutes of dragging.

William Carpenter Jr. of Queenstown, 15-year-old Negro boy who could not swim, drowned Sunday in the Wye River about six miles south of Queenstown. Police said the boy stepped off a ladder attached to the bridge into 15-20 feet of water.

Frank Veloz, 32, of Baltimore, killed Saturday when struck by a hit-and-run car at Baltimore and Port Sts. while walking his dog. The pet also was killed.

Linda Loudermilk, 11, of Baltimore, fatally shot by her brother, Jewell, 14, Friday when the boy was waving a shotgun over his head. The accident happened at the home of the girl's uncle the family was visiting near Gambrills, Anne Arundel County.

Police Sgt. Arthur B. Taylor, 42, of Edgewater, Md., killed Wednesday night when the engine exploded in a hydroplane he was piloting on the South River. The Anne Arundel County policeman was struck in the chest by metal fragments.

Albuquerque Used

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (U)—Albuquerque officials are used to people misspelling the city's name.

But a new one came up recently in a letter from Johannesburg, South Africa. The letter was addressed to: "Allrigneigne, New Mexico."

Man Sues Police
For Taking Pistol

CINCINNATI (U)—A man from whom police confiscated a black-jack and .45 caliber automatic is suing the city of Cincinnati for $1,500 because loss of the weapons is causing him to "suffer from a feeling of insecurity." Police say they took the black-jack and automatic from Henry Lee Ivery after he fired a shot at a prowler, they said they were not convinced he was the proper owner of the weapons.

Dallas Parking Lots
Have Patron Shortage

DALLAS, Tex. (U)—Parking lot operators are looking for autos to fill the 15,000 spaces added in recent years to meet what was termed a drastic need.

One of them, Fred A. Lanier, says business is bad despite reduced rates.

"Dallas is set for months and probably years to come," he adds.

Body Of Man Found
In River Identified

DELTA, Pa. (U)—York County authorities today identified the body of a man found in the Susquehanna River as that of Edward P. Graver Sr., 63, of Baltimore.

State Police reported the identification was made possible by discovery of Graver's hat and auto keys by the river bank. They have not yet found any car, though the police said they presume he drove to near the river.

Lester J. Sell, York County coroner, issued a certificate of accidental death by drowning. Graver's body was discovered yesterday by two teenage fishermen.

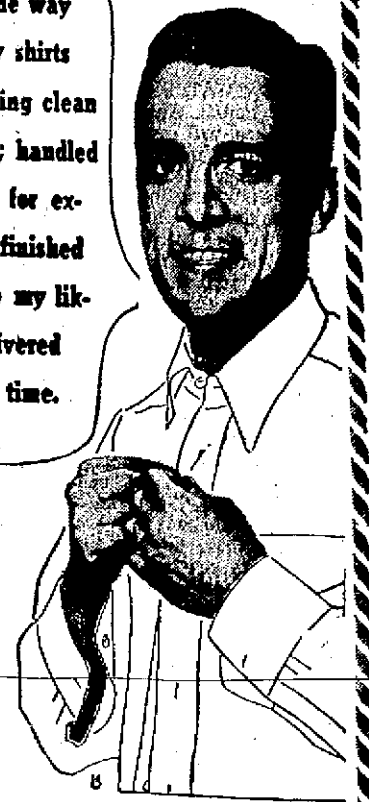

Sell said the body had apparently been in the river about two weeks.

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

Vacation

IT IS ESTIMATED that a record-breaking 83 million Americans, or 22 million families, will spend more than three billion dollars on vacations this year. Yet the sad fact is that countless millions of these vacationers will find their dreams of happy hours spoiled a bit by the "four-day itch." This is an ailment, unknown to medical science, which usually strikes on the fourth day of vacation. Symptoms can be observed in all members of the family.

DAD WILL START muttering about the muttonhead who has taken over his office chores, or fret about the customers he could be calling on. He itches to get back to the grind. Though Mom probably won't admit it, she feels the same longing. She misses the bridge club, and she can't see the mountains for those familiar mounds of dirty clothes around the house. Moreover, she's discovered that the "conveniences" of the summer cottage aren't so convenient. The thing spreads to the kids. They complain the drinking water tastes like distilled carpet fakes. They miss their neighborhood friends. And they worry that Quennie, who's been left at the kennels, will spitefully starve herself to death.

STILL, YOU CAN bet they'll all go away next year and, according to the trend, stay longer. Why? There are lots of reasons. National prosperity is one. Improved highway facilities is another. Enticing installment plans help to spread vacation costs, and industry believes more and more that longer vacations often boost productivity. The biggest reason of all would seem to be that the "four-day itch" to return home isn't nearly so bothersome as the "50-week itch" to get away.

New Look

WHAT IS WRONG with this picture? A supposedly corrupt political machine has for 16 years supported a fearless and incorruptible district attorney, and now has endorsed him for four years more. When the organization in question is Tammany Hall, which for years has had an evil reputation, the picture becomes doubly confused. Thinking about the past, the public doesn't expect Tammany to behave that way. Yet Tammany has consistently backed Frank S. Hogan, district attorney of New York county. Hogan started as a special assistant to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, whose national prominence was due originally to his stern prosecution of criminals no matter how influential their friends. When Dewey became governor he, though a Republican, recommended Hogan, a Democrat, to succeed him. Hogan has been in office ever since, supported by all major parties. Why does Tammany back him? True, it could not well help itself. But over the years Tammany Hall has become much like any other political organization, partly good, partly bad, but not preponderantly one or the other. Its notoriety is probably due less to its character than to its picturesque and easily remembered name.

Pioneer

THE REGENCY of the automobile is pointed up by the death of a pioneer manufacturer. Charles B. King designed and, on March 1, 1896, drove the first auto in Detroit. Charles B. Duryea had built cars previously, and Henry Ford was working on his model. Despite claims to the contrary, Ford does not seem to have antedated King. Later King sent various models of the King car valued at $500,000 to the Ford-Greenfield Museum at Dearborn, Mich. King was a man of many talents. Among his inventions were the cantilever spring, left-handed steering, and the running board. He designed the first practical pneumatic hammer in the United States. Some of his paintings are in the National Gallery in Washington. He was an etcher, an architect, and a musician who played the flute and several other instruments. But his pioneering on the automobile was probably his most durable work.

THERE'S NO getting around it; science does provide many wonderful things. We now have the satisfaction of knowing that our grandchildren can look forward to being blown up only by "clean" bombs.

Expectant Movie Star Speaks Frankly

NEW YORK — I've always felt sorry for lady movie stars — and even sorer for those who were not ladies. During interviews with reporters, they are required to reveal absolutely nothing about their private lives and make it sound passionately sincere.

How clear is the recollection of one blonde starlet, on the fringe of the red carpet treatment, who was just learning the art of evasiveness. Asked if she would wed this swain or that, she stopped in mid-sip of a dry martini and returned glass purposefully to tablecloth.

"Please," she said softly, as her eyes fell and shakily addressed the olive, "don't ask me that question — anything else."

In the hands of a typical and competent movie artist, even a "no comment" must have flair.

MISS YVONNE De Carlo, then, is an oddity. Unlike the lady movie stars who dramatize in quiet tones, and the unlady-like movie stars who say nothing, but in brass lingo for added emphasis, Miss De Carlo speaks up boldly and often says what's on her mind.

"I'm pregnant," she says, "which may not surprise anybody else but it certainly surprised me."

The last half of the last picture I made ("Band of Angels," co-starring Gable) I had to hide behind tables and things — I hope nobody who's wagging the flag for motherhood will object to that — but we got finished just under the line."

Miss De Carlo, wife of film stunt man Bob Morgan and mother of an 11-month-old child, was for several years billed as the spinster holdout of Hollywood. She describes a typical day's thinking process in that bachelor-girl era.

"I THINK I'll go off to France — no, too cold — home, maybe? — no, I won't. I'll stay here and give a party — that's no fun — what then?"

And now, "Ask anything, I talk openly."

Proceeding to do precisely that, Yvonne confessed that although motherhood is renowned as a glorious adventure, "and believe me, I love having children," the actual period of pregnancy can be difficult for a movie star.

"Take now," she says, "I am in New York scheduled to appear glamorous. But do I appear glamorous to anyone but my husband? Right now I'm at that in-between time — you know, the time when people don't say 'Congratulations,' they say 'Boy, have you put on weight! Better give up those midnight champagne suppers, Kid.'"

Glancing Sideways

WACO, Texas — Whenever the professional people of the theatre of New York discuss college theatre (which is more often than college theatre people believe) they inevitably and determinedly focus on the Baylor Theatre at Baylor University in Waco.

This is true for the simplest of all possible reasons: it is a theatre which kindles respect and vivid interest. It is a working theatre. It is not a toy, a whim or a classic seat of capricious production.

Here, they work. Faculty and students alike. They adapt, they design, they write, they direct, they produce and they act. And, thanks to Paul Baker, they do so in a flexible, astonishing theatre — so built that for the larger productions action goes on in three areas simultaneously and the audience sits in swivel chairs and can turn at will to whatever area is the center of action.

A WIDE AND deep commodious center stage is the traditional kind of stage, but from it and out around the two side walls run two other stages, which are tied in with the center one.

In "Romeo and Juliet," for example, the Montagues were ranged on one side and the Capulets across the auditorium on the other and they hurled the Shakespeare insults at each other across the heads of the audience.

The center stage was used for the big scenes. Here they experimented, they try new ways, new dimensions. Backstage is for work: scene loft, designing studio, sewing rooms, costume vault, lighting section, green room, dressing rooms and rehearsal areas.

IF YOU THINK I have been overwhelmed by a tour of this amazing theatre plant within a college, let's turn to some tough, exacting professional people who come here often and without persuasion because they are excited by what is here.

Charles Laughton comes here frequently to sit in and observe.

PAUL GREGORY, who put together the professional concert readings of "Don Juan in Hell" and "John Brown's Body," in one of which Laughton performed, saw the "Hamlet" here and said: "The most moving thing I have ever seen. The vitality is unsurpassed. The wedding of color, movement, lights and words is masterful."

The people of the Broadway theatre, because of Laughton, Meredith and Gregory (all three are always needed on Broadway) now clamor to come here and play with the student casts. But those three would be the first to tell you that Baker is the reason for their deep interest, Baker and his truly formidable college theatre.

From The Mouths Of Babes

M'LEAN, Va. — The Messrs. Harvey Carter of Memphis, Tenn., and Tracy Marlow of New York, both aged 15, now are in residence at my beaten-up acres and they have me worried about the older generation, including myself.

Associating with these youngsters makes me feel like a dope. They try politely to include me in on their conversations, but last night at dinner they were discussing the ideal number of revolutions of the crankshaft of a Diesel engine in a ship at sea.

THEIR TALK shifted then to the historical reason for measuring the size of shotguns by their gauges, and next thing I knew they were in an argument about the lethal effects of a cobalt bomb and why.

Then they wondered whether cobalt was a natural mineral, and they both came to the conclusion that it was a manufactured metal. They asked me what I thought, and my bride then fortunately suggested that she had ice cream. I calculated that they consumed nearly a quart each.

ALL DAY LONG they talked about things scientific; they have to talk loud because wherever they go is Tracy's transistor radio, tuned into rock 'n' roll music, which has been denounced by some critics as the ruin of modern youth.

This din about somebody's white coat and pink carnation serves as an obligato to their mental flights into science, pure and applied.

Tracy currently is attempting to improve the streamlining of a model ship so that it will travel faster; Harvey is interested in building a radio powered by the sun.

They have explained to me how it is possible to grow emeralds in the laboratory. The pure white crystals expand in solution, the way I gather it, and if you want 'em green like natural emeralds, you merely add some impurities like iron.

Tracy invaded Mrs. O's kitchen yesterday afternoon and produced a chocolate cake. None of that ready-mix stuff for him. He said the formula was simple: Three squares of chocolate, three cups of milk, three cups of flour, and three half spoons of vanilla.

By CARL HARTMAN
For Hal Boyle

BUDAPEST — Thousands of Communist Hungary's children have registered for regular school classes in religion, including many whose parents did not dare let them apply before last fall's revolt.

The regime of Premier Janos Kadar, like all Communist regimes, is antireligious in principle. But in Hungary, as in Poland, the Communists and churches seem to be finding ways to get along.

IN HUNGARY a decree was issued that the registration should be neither encouraged nor hindered.

As in the past, two 50-minute classes are to be given weekly, either before or after regular school hours.

Priests, pastors and rabbis do the teaching in the classrooms and are paid for it by the state.

Accompanied by a government representative, I visited three Budapest schools last week. In each I was told that registration for the classes in religion was three times what it was last July.

A big majority of the children registered were Roman Catholic, as is well over half the country's population.

The Education Ministry said it had no over-all registration figures for this year yet, and it would not make last year's figures available.

One of the schools visited was in a middleclass district in Budu. Another serves a poorer section near Uellnei Street, where the heaviest fighting occurred last fall. The third was in a factory workers' suburb, Angyalfoeld.

All three schools had registration notices posted on the doors, ample space for the registration work and plenty of volunteer teachers to help.

PRINCIPAL Miklos Tavaszi at the Kristina Square school in Budapest explained that a year ago representatives of Communist women's organizations were present and discouraged mothers from registering their children. This was not happening now, he said.

He predicted that, as a result, more than 200 of his 586 pupils would register, instead of the 66 who did so last year.

When the schools first reopened in January after the fighting, children were allowed for a while to attend without registering.

At the Angyalfoeld school, 300 joined the classes instead of the mere 30 on the lists. The woman principal explained with a smile: "The political situation in January was not yet clear."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — I had a safe and comparatively sane week end, so don't think I'm seeing things. But I have a press release in front of me which states flatly that a lot of the fellows are mothers.

Yes it does. It says that the youngest fellow is 21; the oldest 58, and that their children range from 1 to 18, meaning—I hope—in age. I would not care to think of a young fellow like the youngest fellow having 13 children.

I am as sober and steady as the next one, proving the next one is on the verge of delirium tremens, but I will admit the release jarred my aplomb. I have always considered myself one of the fellows. And while I have always felt we should extend our sphere of activity as much as possible it never occurred to me to become that fatality.

I got so shaky thinking of what was happening to the fellows that I had difficulty holding the release steady enough to read further. Moreover, one of the neighbor's kiddies, a dear little thing, had shot a bootlegged 75-cent intercontinental ballistic missile into me when my trusting back was turned, so I was quivering anyway.

Flood Year

THIS HAS BEEN a bad year for floods. High waters have spread over farm lands and communities in various parts of the country, and property loss has run into countless millions of dollars.

Perhaps a certain amount of flooding always will be unavoidable during the time of spring rains and melting snow. That is no reason for shrugging our collective shoulders and concluding that nothing can be done about it. Actually, a great deal already is being done in various parts of the country. The important part to make, however, is that much more could be done.

There is an all-too-widespread belief that the way to stop floods is to build a mighty dam and impound the waters before they can overflow the banks downstream. This is neither the only nor, in many cases, the most effective way to prevent disastrous floods.

Big dams are somewhat like major surgery. In many cases such measures are called for, but often preventive medicine can forestall the need for surgery. With regard to flood danger, "preventive medicine" involves conservation measures before it ever gets to the big streams that cause the big damage.

Proper farming techniques and the construction of small dams up toward the headwaters can do wonders to prevent damaging floods downstream. The methods have been tested and proved effective on numerous watersheds. If they were employed on a much broader scale, the annual flood toll in the United States could be reduced materially.

Girls are naturally curious, says a writer. Some, however, really don't mind being kept in the dark.

An Illinois woman who lives in a three-room apartment gave birth to triplets. There'll be changes made.

Few women swear, according to a pastor. Maybe shedding a few tears brings the same results.

New Fathers Get Paternity Leave

LA MESA, Calif. (AP) — School officials agree that all-night floor pacing by new fathers constitutes unusual mental strain.

The trustees have voted to grant a one-day leave of absence with pay to male school teachers on the day following the birth of their child.

"A teacher is not in condition to teach effectively on the day following (the birth), yet financial pressure usually prevents his remaining at home if a deduction in pay is to result," the trustees held.

City Firemen Quench Two Blazes In One Day

Local firemen battled two blazes yesterday with East Side and Central firemen extinguishing a grass fire in Constitution Park at 4:18 p. m., and Central earlier quenching a fire at 45 Bedford Street.

East Side answered the park alarm and located the blaze near the ball diamond in the park. Noting how quickly the blaze was spreading they requested assistance from Central.

The two companies extinguished the blaze and cleaned up around the park before returning to their stations.

Central prevented a disaster when they saw smoke coming from the doorway of an empty building at 45 Bedford Street.

Investigating, they discovered an overstuffed chair in the abandoned building had caught fire and set the door frame to the wooden structure ablaze.

Firemen speculated that someone had entered the building and probably accidentally set fire to the chair with a cigarette. The smoldering flames finally set the doorway afire, they said.

A small brush fire on Wires Avenue was quenched by volunteer firemen from LaVale Friday.

Dog Stranded For Several Days Rescued

The Ridgeley Police Chief and members of the Cumberland Auxiliary Police Saturday saved a stranded dog from a ledge above the Potomac River bank on the Ridgeley side.

It was reported the dog fell 40 feet onto the ledge several days ago and a Cumberland woman heard the dog whining and barking and notified authorities.

Several members of the local rescue squad answered the call and put a boat into the river because the ledge could only be reached from the bank below.

Police Chief Jack D. Carnett and Michael McCullough, a member of the rescue squad, rowed to the scene climbed the bank and brought the animal down.

The dog, a neighborhood pet belonging to Peter Thompson, of Ridgeley.

Regional CD Inventory Starts Today

Medical Facility, Personnel Check To Run Through July 19

OLNEY, Md., July 7 (AP) — The Federal Civil Defense Administration's Region 2 will use its inventory of medical facilities and personnel for the first time during "Operation Alert, 1957" scheduled today through July 19.

Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and the District of Columbia comprise the FCDA Region 2 area.

John L. Sullivan, Region 2 administrator here, said that the inventory was the "most complete of its kind ever undertaken in Region 2."

The material is expected to prove invaluable as an aid to making realistic evaluations and decisions during the national scale "Operation Alert, 1957."

The region has a total population of 30,176,841. Ministering to the normal medical needs of the region are 37,921 physicians, including 2,034 surgeons; 255 public health doctors and 26 hospital administrators who are licensed medical practitioners.

The region has 64,719 accredited nurses; 4,229 public health nurses, and 13,860 dentists. State personnel engaged in health activities number an additional 78,570, with 21,479 employed in sanitation work.

90 Employees Laid Off At Textile Mill

Market Conditions Termed Cause Of Coney Plant Shutdown

Ninety persons have been furloughed for an indefinite period of time at the General Textile Mills, Inc., plant in Lonaconing.

Wesley Duckworth, plant manager, said the factory will be shut down until market conditions improve on commission yarn throwing.

Duckworth stated today the commission throwing of yarn is highly competitive, with many firms cutting prices.

Freight Rate Up

He also added that freight rate increases in recent years on the shipments of the yarn to and from the Lonaconing factory also adds to the poor market condition.

Duckworth said he was in the New York office of the corporation last week and after discussing the various market conditions officials decided the firm could not make out financially on the operation of the Lonaconing plant.

There were plenty of orders, he pointed out, but these had to be cancelled because it would not be economically feasible to take them.

Union To Meet

General Textile Mills operates another plant at Carbondale, Pa., but it has no yarn twisting machinery.

John Thomas, president of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, announced that a meeting of the union's Lonaconing Sub-local will be held today at 7:30 p. m. in the home of Alvin C. Neat Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to discuss the situation.

Local 1874 represents the workers in the plant.

Coal Miners To Be Back On Jobs Tomorrow

Traffic on the two railroads here is expected to increase this week as most soft coal miners return to their jobs after their annual vacation period.

Most employees represented by the United Mine Workers of America complete their paid holiday tonight and most mines will begin loading tomorrow.

The full effect of the return to work will be felt as early as tomorrow evening when coal trains will begin moving.

A Western Maryland Railway spokesman said volume of coal traffic will not be back to normal until next Monday when Bethlehem Steel mines go back to work. These miners had an additional week.

Coal accounts for a substantial percentage of the volume of freight hauled by the two railroads through here.

New Delegate To Be Chosen By Committee

Getty Reports No Applications Filed For Kelley's Post

No formal applications for the vacant House of Delegates position for this county have been received by the chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee.

James S. Getty, chairman, said the committee will meet today at 7:30 p. m. in his County Building office to appoint a successor to Estel C. Kelley who resigned to accept a position on the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners.

Earlier this year, Samuel M. Berry, Westport, a member of the committee, announced he would seek the appointment.

Getty, however, said he has received no applications for the job. The other members of the central committee may have them, but he said he does not.

City Recognizes Retiring Editor

The Mayor and Council is sending a letter of recognition and commendation to J. William Hunt who retired June 30 as editor of the Cumberland Sunday Times.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan suggested the move today in view of Hunt's outstanding contribution in presenting the history of Allegany County and for his services as the paper's editor.

Hunt had been editor of The Sunday Times over 30 years and has been a newspaperman 40 years.

To Enclose Porch

Raymond F. Wempe has obtained a permit from the building engineer to enclose a front porch at 614 Elwood Street. Cost is estimated at $2,000.

Highway Toll Low In Area Over Holiday

No Serious Auto Accidents Reported During Long Weekend

The Fourth of July holiday weekend officially ended this morning, and accident-wise the Cumberland area was free of serious mishaps.

Memorial and Sacred Heart hospitals today reported a "busy" week end, but pointed out that it consisted of routine home and picnic accidents.

On the highway scene, Maryland State Police at the LaVale barracks wrapped up a "round-the-clock" schedule today which started last Wednesday.

Lt. W. E. O'Hara, commander, said the troopers operated on a "full scale" patrol around the clock, with only two minor accidents reported.

The most serious was early yesterday morning when a vehicle went out of control and crashed on State Route 495, one mile south of Grantsville.

Youth Injured

Injured in the mishap was Raymond Giffin, 18, of RD 2, Grantsville, who was admitted to Meyersdale Community Hospital. Aftiches reported his condition "good." He sustained back injuries and abrasions.

Police said the mishap occurred when a car driven by Willard Wiland, 20, of RD 2, Grantsville, failed to negotiate a left turn, ran off the highway, crashed through a fence and turned over.

The only other highway accident reported over the holiday occurred Saturday night when Karl Smith, 25, Arienas, Pa., lost control of his vehicle on Green Ridge Mountain and crashed.

Smith was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital with severe lacerations of his face and head, but is reported in "good" condition.

Two Cars Collide

Locally, City Police handled a two-car accident Saturday night in which considerable property damage was reported.

Officer James Swann, who investigated, said the accident occurred at the intersection of Fourth Street and Pennsylvania Avenue.

Officer Swann said a car, driven by William Shanholts, 21, of 604 Virginia Avenue, was traveling west on Fourth Street, when it was struck by a truck driven by Paul R. Wilson, of 47 Blackiston Avenue.

The officer said Shanholts' car was struck on the right side, pushed 18 to 20 feet against the curb and into a fire plug. The car, valued at $400, was demolished, and Wilson's truck was damaged to the extent of $300.

Minor Wrecks Reported

West Virginia State Police at Romney reported on a couple of minor wrecks, but nothing of a serious nature.

In one accident John DeVore, Westport, was admitted to Memorial Hospital here with lacerations of the neck.

State Police said DeVore was injured when his car crashed on Middle Ridge, near the Mineral, Hampshire line, on State Route 28.

In another accident at Romney yesterday two local persons were injured.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital was Mrs. Mildred Holshey, 48, Bedford Road, with chest and rib injuries. Treated and released was Edward Engle of Walnut Street.

Hospital attaches said the mishap occurred near Romney, but details were not available.

Hurt In Homes

Two other area persons were admitted to Memorial yesterday with injuries sustained at their homes.

James Painter, 5, of 230 West Oldtown Road, sustained an injury to his right arm in a fall. (Continued on Page 14)

The five youths will get their pins at troop ceremonies.

State Group Opens Annual Study Session

Rehabilitation Unit Workshop Held At Frostburg College

The seventh annual workshop of the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Maryland State Department of Education opened this morning at Frostburg State Teachers College.

W. B. Terwilliger, assistant division director, who is in charge, said the workshop will run five days, with morning and afternoon classes scheduled today through Friday. Thirty-two members of the division registered for the workshop, Terwilliger said.

This morning's program opened with a discussion group, led by W. W. Lamprell, counselor for the division's Baltimore office, on "Hemiplegia, Paraplegia and Other Related Disorders."

Delayed In Charge

Following a luncheon in the college dining room, the group reconvened for a panel discussion concerning children of school age, conducted by J. Leo Delaney, of Baltimore, former member of the Allegany County school system who is now supervisor of the Baltimore Metropolitan area with the rehabilitation division.

Tomorrow morning's session will be a discussion on epilepsy, with Miss Ruth F. Ring, Baltimore counselor, in charge. The afternoon panel, led by W. B. Terwilliger, will discuss the problem of the cardiac patient.

Mental illness will be the topic of Wednesday morning's session, with R. L. Burton, Salisbury area counselor, and B. W. Barker, who is in charge of the rehabilitation of the mentally ill for the State Department of Health, in charge. Terwilliger will be the leader of the afternoon session that day, which will consider "Administration Matters."

Morning and afternoon sessions on Thursday and Friday will be devoted to an analysis of "Psychological Testing Methods and Techniques." Leading the discussion groups will be Terwilliger, Barker, Carroll Walsh, Hyattsville area counselor; J. M. Coburn, Allegany-Garrett County counselor, and H. D. Devlin, Hagerstown, division supervisor for the Western Maryland District.

A dinner is scheduled at 6:30 p. m. Thursday at the college dining hall for those participating in the workshop, Terwilliger said.

Karl Taschenberger, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Taschenberger Sr., Winifred Road, member of Troop 23, sponsored by John Humbird School, and a student at Fort Hill High School.

Taschenberger two years ago won the Scout Pro Deo of Patriot award for outstanding service for his church, St. John's Lutheran.

Vaughn Simmons, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Simmons, member of Troop 63, sponsored by the Petersburg Kiwanis Club and a student at Petersburg High School.

The council Eagle Scout Board of Review was headed by Okey Michael, Westport, council advancement chairman, and included J. L. Towler, and L. R. Cornwell, Cumberland, and Dr. Donald P. Whitworth, Adrian Rankin, and James Newlin, all of Westport.

The Eagle Scout candidate must earn 21 merit badges, most of them in specified fields. He must be a Life Scout at least six months and show evidence of leadership ability on a troop, school, church and community basis.

Willis V. Smith, council executive, said each of the new Eagle Scouts will have formal induction ceremonies at his respective troop.

Kelly-Union Wage Talks Start Today

Wage negotiations between Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company began today in the conference room at the Kelly plant.

James Stein, president of the union, said the wage talks here are expected to follow the industry pattern, affecting some 1,700 hourly-paid workers at the plant.

Mayor Marks Anniversary

Today is the 30th wedding anniversary of Mayor and Mrs. Roy W. Eves.

Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan pointed out the anniversary at this morning's meeting of the Mayor and Council. And he added that in a recent conversation with Mrs. Eves she said "She had only seen her husband nine of the 30 years of married life."

Mrs. Eves is the former Clara Belle Plunmy and the Mayor met her at an Epworth League meeting in Chillicothe, O., where he first went to work for the B&O Railroad. They have a daughter, Elizabeth, of Washington, D. C.

Mayor Eves was superintendent of the B&O Bolt and Forge Shops here until he retired.

New Pay Rate Scale Set For Water Plant

Attention Called To "Inequities" Prior To Session

Water Commissioner William J. Edwards will prepare an equitable schedule of rates of pay for employees at the Lake Gordon plant of the Everts Creek Water Company as the result of a meeting held today in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves.

The session followed a call by Finance Commissioner John J. Long last week in which he told council there were certain "inequities" which should be worked out. Long said after today's meeting that he intends to follow through on his original request and will seek detailed information on rental of company-owned homes at Lake Gordon, how much rental is paid and where the money is going.

Mayor Eves said he told the employees that the problem comes under Edwards' department but that they had gone to Long. He said he had asked Edwards to draw up the schedule to include rental for homes, plus cost of heat and electricity. One purpose, he added, is to get away from "hidden" compensations.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz also sought detailed information on the use of company-owned houses by employees, the effect on expenses and taxes. He also emphasized that the wage rate for laborers is lower in Bedford County, Pa., than it is in Allegany County.

Long pointed out that laborers at the dam make less money than Street Department workers in the same classification. He said if any increases are granted, they should also apply to city workers at the dam.

In addition to the Mayor and Council and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson, also attending were George M. Hiltchuck, water company superintendent; C. L. Bremmle, assistant superintendent; Clark Zembower, Lewis Simpson and Fred Hartsock.

City Will Get New Monument

Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles will present a 1,400 pound granite monument to the city on which will be a plaque containing the 10 Commandments.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz said the stone is on display at the Strand Theatre where the film "The Ten Commandments" will begin Thursday.

The city, he said, is among those selected by the Grand Aerie of Eagles to receive the monuments. Permission has been obtained from the Board of Allegany County Commissioners to place it on the Court House lawn, he said, adding that the Street Department will erect a base for it.

Adult Swimmers At Pool Increase

Adult participation at Constitution Park swimming pool has almost doubled over that of last year, Gene Mason, recreation director, revealed today.

Mason said since the pool opened May 30, figures through yesterday show 2,188 adults have used its facilities compared to 1,234 during the same period a year ago. On July 4, a holiday, 210 adults used the pool, the highest number for the day in two years. Last year 101 adults paid admission on Independence Day.

Overall attendance since May 30 totals 13,495, Mason added.

Glass Plant Construction Being Pushed

Pittsburgh Plate Hopes To Complete All Units This Fall

Construction work is being pushed at the North Branch Plant of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company where officials hope to get all units into production by fall.

The firm has been making rough plate glass for about ten months, but has been shipping it to PPGC plants at Creighton and Ford City, Pa., for grinding and polishing.

The firm had been gunning for a July target date for the local plant to have all units in operation—the twin grinders, the polishing equipment and the ware-room and shipping department.

60 Work Days Lost

But, according to Carl J. Cochran, project construction superintendent for Pittsburgh Plate, bad weather last year caused the loss of 60 working days. That amounted to 12 five-day weeks, or ten six-day work weeks.

There was so much rain roads had to be built a number of times when they became impassable for even large mobile construction machinery.

There are approximately 1,000 craftsmen working at the plant, and these men were kept on their jobs even for the Fourth of July.

95 Percent Complete

Cochran reported that the work on the twin grinders in the 240-foot production line is 95 per cent completed.

This machinery was manufactured by H. M. S. of Avevaels, Belgium, and is the only such equipment in any plate glass plant in the United States.

Cochran said these grinders will make the Cumberland plant the most modern in the industry in the nation.

Made In Belgium

The polishers, also in a line over 200 feet long, are 85 per cent completed. This equipment, which works on one side of the glass at a time, and is turned over by an ingenious machine, also manufactured by H. M. S.

The conveyor system that will carry the rough glass from the melting tank through the grinder and polisher into the ware-room is practically completed.

The ware-room, by far the largest of the buildings at the plant, is 50 per cent completed, Cochran said.

Magistrates Get 36 Cases

Cumberland's two trial magistrates spent a busy morning in court today with some 36 cases involving more than $560 in fines.

Magistrate J. Milton Dick handled 16 speeding cases, a drunken driving case, one reckless driving charge and three other minor violations. He took in a total of $382.85 in fines.

Magistrate Dick also handled Police Court this morning when 15 cases were presented. Most of the men forfeited fines for drunkenness, disturbing the peace and resisting arrest.

Magistrate Donald W. Mason this morning handled 15 speeding cases, with fines totaling $300 and costs. Eight of the cases were handled by City Police who were operating the radar machine on Frederick Street.

Draft Board Appealing For Delinquent's Address

P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator for the local Selective Services boards, this morning issued an urgent appeal for information concerning an area delinquent.

Fahey said every possible effort has been made by the board to locate William Elridge Logsdon who has been classified as a delinquent with Board 27.

Fahey said the youth registered with the board on April 16, 1953, and gave his address as Star Route, Finlstone. On October 12, 1953 the youth reported to Fahey that he was living at 40 Lincoln Way West, Chambersburg, Pa.

On September 23, 1955 the Logsdon youth reported to the board that he had moved to 60 North Federal Street, Chambersburg. Letters sent to the boy at this address have been returned and marked "Moved, left no address," Fahey said.

Fahey said that the board has made every possible effort to locate Logsdon, but has had no success.

The local board official said: "In as much as Logsdon is now classified as a delinquent, we have no alternative but to report him to Leon H. A. Pierson, United States Attorney, for action."

Fahey noted that it has been many years since the board has had a delinquent, and hopes that someone in the area will be able to supply the board with information before further action is taken.

Council Closes Part Of Mapleside Street

In what was a routine session today, the Mayor and Council approved an ordinance to close a portion of Somerville Avenue from the north side of Quebec Avenue to the south side of Fourth Street.

Commissioners were appointed to assess any benefits or damages which may accrue to property owners involved. They are John Vorkmeister, George Tedrick and Robert Young, local realtors.

In other activity, Council authorized Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz to advertise for bids on one half ton or three-quarter ton pickup truck which will be assigned to the flood control maintenance program.

The bid of Gurley's, Inc., for two panel body trucks for the Water Department was accepted and involves $2,853.80.

Membership dues in the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, $175 annually, was approved along with those payments for from the north side of Quebec Avenue to the south side of Fourth Street.

Damages to automobiles because of faults in streets: Donald Beeghley, $18.14; Claude S. Keller, $12.50; and Otis F. Rigglesman, $114.62.

Parking meter inspector Harry Whisner reported collections the week of June 30 were $704.39 compared to $749.40 the week of June 2, a decrease of $45.01.

In a report of receipts and disbursements, Finance Commissioner John J. Long listed the following July 1 balances: General, $415,636.03; water operation, $125,187.50; general improvement bonds, $79,294.40; sewer bonds of 1931, $3,199.82; and sewage disposal plant bond fund, $59,487.65.

VETERAN PRINTER HONORED—Joseph A. Mackert, second from right, is shown yesterday at a social in his honor at the Labor Temple receiving a 40-year membership pin in Cumberland Local 244, International Typographical Union. Mackert, superintendent of the composing room for the Times and Alleganian Company, is being presented the pin by James Orr, another 40-year member. Looking on are Mrs. Mackert, and Charles A. Barringer, another 40-year member. The only other 40 ear pin wearer in the local union is Pius Boley, who was present.

When Dick Groat turned slugger yesterday to help the Pittsburgh Pirates take a doubleheader from the Giants in New York, he gladdened the hearts of a lot of Cumberland baseball fans. Super stars like Ted Williams of the Red Sox and Mickey Mantle of the Yankees have big followings everywhere, but it's doubtful if any other player in the major leagues is more of a sentimental favorite here than "Dandy Dick."

Cumberland became "Groat conscious" in the winter of 1953 when the Pirate shortstop and team captain was doing a tour of military duty. The year before he had made the jump from the campus of Duke University to the big leagues and led the Pirates in batting with a .284 average.

That's about all local fans knew about Dick so far as baseball was concerned. They were, however, aware of his reputation as a basketball player and a near-capacity crowd turned out despite a snow storm to see him perform at the SS. Peler and Paul gym with a cage team from Fort Belvoir.

For a while, it appeared that Groat was going to disappoint the fans. An hour after the scheduled starting time the Belvoir cagers still hadn't arrived and many customers asked for a refund and went home. About a half-hour later, Groat and his teammates showed up.

While crossing the treacherous mountains between Hancock and Cumberland, they wrecked their car and had to hitch-hike the rest of the way. But the fans, who stayed around never regretted it and soon learned that Groat wasn't an All-American in name only.

Dick gave a terrific performance on the court that night, but couldn't get down apologizing to officials of the Cumberland Old Germans for being so late. "If it's all right with you, we'll stay over and play again tomorrow night," Groat said.

He didn't have to make a second offer, as the Old Germans leaped at the opportunity.

To the surprise of almost nobody, Groat was even greater on the second night. And the following year Dick returned to stage one of the most dazzling shooting shows ever seen in Cumberland when he tallied 64 points in a 118-87 win over the Germans. He made 28 baskets in only 40 attempts.

Dick played the game like he loved it—which he does—and not once did he attempt to belittle our local players by "showing off" as so many All-Americans are prone to do.

Groat also has been a guest at the past two Cumberland Dapper Dan dinners and his popularity seems to grow with every return trip.

Dick plays baseball with the same spirit he shows on the court. Although not a power hitter, he's consistent at the stick and sets a great example for team play.

The hustling sure-fingered shortstop had his biggest day as a big leaguer in yesterday's twin win, belting two homers and a bases-loaded triple. In the nightcap, he batted in five of the Bucc's eight runs.

After swatting his second homer, both of which came back-to-back to circuit smashes by Frank Thomas, Dick circled the bases wearing a big grin. Groat fans in Cumberland were grinning, too.

The personable Pirate captain was "needed" here on one of his visits about his inability to sock a long ball with consistency, and Robert "Ace" Baker, Times-News stereotypical pressman, made a friendly wager with Groat's wife that he wouldn't hit three home runs last year. As it turned out, Dick didn't hit a single four-bagger in 1956 but already he has hit four.

After yesterday's big day, Baker sent the following wire to Groat: "No more home run bets. You are too much of a slugger. Congratulations."

Our personal admiration for Groat goes beyond the ball field. On several visits to Forbes Field the past two years, we stopped by the Pirate dugout to chat with Dick and each time the conversations were interrupted by autograph-seekers. He never rejected a request and made no attempt to give anyone the "brush-off," whether it happened to be an idolizing youngster or a hero-worshipping adult.

Yes sir, Richard Morrice Groat is a major leaguer every step of the way!

Nationals 6-to-5 Favorites In All-Star Game

Tomorrow's Contest Has Fans 'Alive' In St. Louis

By HOWARD SIGMUND

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (INS) — National League manager Walter Alston and American League manager Casey Stengel name their starting pitchers and batting orders today for tomorrow's 24th All-Star baseball game.

Alston's slightly favored National Leaguers, who seem to have discovered a formula on how to beat their American League rivals in recent years, are expected to have either left-hander Johnny Antonelli of the New York Giants or Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies as their starting hurler.

The unpredictable Stengel, striving desperately to erase his league's growing inferiority complex, figured to choose a right-hander as his starter. Everybody in baseball-happy St. Louis participated in a guessing game, and the righties mentioned most often were Baltimore's Billy "The Kid" Loos and Cleveland's Early Wynn.

Nationals 6-5 Favorites

Stengel will be the answer man and the fact that the Cincinnati-dominated National League swings predominantly from the right side doesn't necessarily mean that the astute Yankee manager might not decide to go against the book and name either Chicago White Sox left-hander Billy Pierce or his own mighty mite, Wes Bobby Shantz.

The National League, playing on its home grounds and winner of six out of the last seven of these name games, is a 6 to 5 favorite. The NL is still struggling to catch up with the past, however, because the American League boasts a 13-10 edge in All-Star competition.

All-Star games have been a matter of personal embarrassment to grizzled Stengel, the old gentleman who perennially shines around October time. Casey has a nightmarish 1-5 record in dream game play and might consider farming himself out to Kansas City if he loses this time.

Be that as it may, St. Louis is alive and jumping in a manner reminiscent of the days of the old Gas House Gang. The beloved Cardinals are perched atop the league and incomparable Stan Musial will be playing in his record 14th All-Star game when he trots out to take his place at first base tomorrow.

31,000 To See Game

A capacity crowd of 31,000 is assured at Busch Stadium when the stars clash beginning at 1:30 p. m. CDT (2:30 p. m. Cumberland time).

Typical St. Louis weather is forecast for the spectacular which will be televised and broadcast by radio (NBC) to a nationwide audience. From his air-conditioned chamber, the learned Weatherman has forecast hot and humid weather — with scattered thunder showers.

A postmortem will force the game to be held under the lights at 8 p. m. tomorrow night. If that isn't possible they'll try again Wednesday morning and then Wednesday night. No All-Star game has ever been washed out completely.

This is the third All-Star game for St. Louis. Two were played in the days when Sportsman Park housed the Cards and the Browns.

If history means anything, St. Louis is an upset city. In 1940, the power-laden American League was blanked, 4 to 0 by some masterful underdog National League pitching. And in 1949, a walking-wounded American League squad came out on top of the favored Nationals, 5 to 2.

Anything can happen in these summer classics and this year's muscular AL squad is forgetting the fact that the Nationals out-slogged them, 7 to 3 in the 1956 game at Washington. They prefer to remember their last victory, an 11 to 9 decision scored at Cleveland in 1954.

Stengel's starting team, before he arranges them in batting places consists of 1b—Vic Wertz, Cleveland Indians; 2b—Nellie Fox, Chicago White Sox; ss—Harvey Kuenn, Detroit Tigers; 3b—George Kell, Baltimore Orioles; rf—Al Kaline, Detroit Tigers; cf—Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees; lf—Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox and catcher Yogi Berra, New York Yankees.

Yanks Dominate

The fan-designated stars must play three innings before they are replaced.

Stengel's squad is dominated by eight of his Yankee players while Alston's team has six Cincinnati Redlegs and six Milwaukee Braves.

Stengel's pitchers include Pierce, who has started three of the last four classics, Shantz, Loos, Wynn, Cleveland's Don (Continued on Page 9)

Ronnie Diehl Signs Cincinnati Contract

Ronnie Diehl, slugging first baseman of the Allegany High Campers for the past two years, has decided to try his hand at professional baseball.

The husky 18-year-old southpaw swinger yesterday was signed by the Cincinnati Redlegs, affixing his signature on a Class B contract. He will report to the training camp of Redleg farm teams next spring at which time he will be assigned.

Diehl, who attended a recent Cincinnati tryout camp at Westernport, was observed in action by a pair of scouts yesterday at Centerville where he played first base for the Reds in a Pen-Mar League game against Grantsville. He collected two singles in five trips.

Diehl was signed at his home, 1029 Frederick Street, later in the evening by Ed Liberator, chief scout of the Middle Atlantic States, and Milton (Hefty) Newton of Westernport, area scout.

Little League Product

A product of Cumberland's Dapper Dan Little League, Diehl was on the Allegany squad for four years during which time he compiled a .374 batting average.

He began his diamond career as an 11-year-old, playing under Howard "Farmer" Northcraft in the Little League and later in the Hot Stove circuit. With the Phillies in 1950, he batted .451 and the following year his average skyrocketed to .563—36 hits in 64 trips, including six homers.

He batted .359 for Times-News in the Hot Stove League in 1952 and in '53 clubbed the ball at a .506 clip. His last year in the Hot Stove found him getting 22 extra-base hits — ten doubles, six triples and six home runs. He also batted in 37 runs for 24 games.

374 Schoolboy Mark

Diehl, a slick-fielding first sacker who also throws left, compiled a four-year batting average of .374 for the Campers in the Allegany County (Bi-State) Conference.

A late-season slump, in which he failed to collect a hit in his last six at bats, cost him the batting title this spring. He wound up in third place with his seasonal top mark of .455 after he had led most of the season.

Ronnie, as a freshman for the co-champion Campers in 1954, hit .333. He fell to .208 in 1955 as a sophomore but came back with a good .444 in 1956 to finish fourth in the race.

His four-year totals were 55 games, 174 times at the plate, 41 runs scored and 55 hits.

Diehl also hit the long ball with his 11 extra-base swats in 1956, pinging the schoolboy circuit. He was tops in doubles with nine and came through with a triple and homer among his 24 hits. He was second to LaSalle's batting champ, Regis Fair, in total bases with 38.

This spring, in leading the circuit with 25 hits, Diehl slapped out six two-baggers and one homer.

A two-sport star for Alco, he put in two years on the basketball squad, serving as the team's first sub this past season. For 17 games in two campaigns, he wound up with 45 points.

Bucs' Thomas 'All-Star' In Giants' Book

By International News Service

Frank Thomas was given little consideration by the fans and National League manager Walter Alston for an All-Star berth but if the Giants had their way, the husky Pittsburgh swatter would be up there taking his cuts tomorrow.

The 28-year-old third baseman, outfielder murdered the Polo Grounders in their recently concluded four-game series with the Pirates, belting out five home runs in all, including three yesterday.

Thomas, who walloped 30 homers in his rookie season and added 73 more in the past three years, belted one Friday and on Saturday, badly shaken up from a 12th-inning collision with Dick Groat, ended the game with one decisive swat in the 13th.

The 6-foot-3, 200-pound native of the Steel City made it three in a row off Giant pitching by hitting Al Worthington deliveries with a man aboard in both the first and third innings of the first Pirate victory yesterday.

He added his 12th of the year, and seventh off the Giants, in the fifth inning of the nightcap against Ruben Gomez.

When the smoke lifted, Thomas had four for seven, which raised his batting average to .306. His five runs batted in also helped lift the Bucs out of the National League cellar.

In all, he was on base nine of ten times in yesterday's twin bill.

Trio 'Stove Tilts' On Slate Today

Elks and Jaycees, now in a dead heat for first place in the Hot Stove Baseball League, will clash with the clubs that handed them their first defeats this evening.

Elks whipped Jaycees, 4-1, Friday to get back into the squabble for first by recording their seventh win in nine starts. This evening they tangle with Rotary in the nightcap at Penn Avenue Field at 8:15. Rotary set down Elks, 6-4, in their first meeting.

Jaycees, also with a 7-2 showing, will oppose Lions in a 6 o'clock tilt at East Side Field. Although below the .500 mark with four wins in nine attempts, Lions spilled Jaycees, 3-2, earlier in the season.

In today's opening tilt at Penn Avenue, billed for 6 o'clock, Kiwanis takes on Optimist. The Kiwanians, meeting Optimist for the first time, are a game below .500 with three wins and four losses. Optimist have been beaten six times in eight tries.

Fort Ashby Beaten By Yankees, 12-5

Homers by Ken Dealhauser and Tom Hopwood and three hits by Tom Lowery paced the Yankees to a 12-5 win over the Fort Ashby Little League team yesterday at Post Field.

Hopwood held the losers to four hits, two by Newcomer.

In a four-inning nightcap, the Yankee Reserves defeated the Columbia Street Wildcats, 6 to 3. Gary Luck was the winning pitcher in the abbreviated tilt.

Moore Loses Title Without Donning Mitt

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK 16—Archie Moore, the graybeard light heavyweight champion of the world, is no more. That is, he is no more the light heavyweight champion as of today.

Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission and newly elected president of the World Championship Committee for professional boxing, said no formalities are now necessary to declare the light heavyweight title vacant.

"At the World Championship Committee meeting in Paris last month, it was decided that Moore's title would be automatically vacated if he failed to sign for a championship fight with Tony Anthony by July 7," Helfand said.

Unless he has decided to keep it a secret, Archie has not signed to fight Anthony. The other day, Frank Sinatra's business manager, Hank Sanicola, said he and the singer hoped to promote a bout between Moore and Anthony in Los Angeles in September. He added that he's supposed to meet with Archie today.

But that apparently cut no ice with Helfand.

"The National Boxing Assn. was represented at the Paris meeting," he said, "and concurred in our decision. If Moore had signed by July 7, he would have had until Aug. 30 to go through with the fight."

"We have set up plans for an elimination series. Anthony, as the No. 1 contender, can fight either Harold Johnson of Philadelphia or Yolande Pompey of Trinidad. The winner will be recognized as the world champion provided he fights the other (either Johnson or Pompey) within 90 days in defense of his title."

It remains to be seen whether the Committee can make its decision stick.

It is almost a certainty that Moore, who hasn't defended his title since he knocked out Pompey 13 months ago, will challenge it.

He is on record as saying that he is willing to fight Anthony if he gets a guarantee of $100,000. So far he has had no takers.

The "pro-am" golf tourney at the Cumberland Country Club yesterday by the Men's Golf Association wound up in a tie for first place for three of the 18 foursomes participating. All had net scores of 53.

The deadlocked leaders were Morton Peskin, Jr., P. Dadina, George Bortor and Karl Bachman; Russell Ponton, Dr. Frank Cawley, Abe Feigus and Jack Welber; Robert Davis, Stanley Jacobson, Dr. Milton Granet and Dr. Albert C. Eskin.

Trailing the leaders with net 54s were the two foursomes of Ben LaNeve, Jack Moberly, Nate Hauger, Robert Harvey, John Topper, Robert Garner, Maurice Milberg and Harold Marx.

Six were tied in the twosome best ball with scores of 59. They were L. W. Brown and Capt. R. A. Clarke, George Garlitz and Gil Bohn, Orville W. Jackson and Ivan Hall, Morton Peskin Jr., and P. Dadina, Ben LaNeve and Jack Moberly and Robert Davis and Stanley Jacobson.

The odd hole tourney held over the weekend at the club ended in a tie between Robert Davis and Dave Klein. Davis posted a net 37-32 and Klein carded a 39-7-32. Twenty-two members participated.

Players with flags on par three holes were: No. 1—Dr. A. G. Sandhoff, No. 6—James W. Beacham, Nos. 10 and 18—Clifton Van Roby, No. 12—Ben LaNeve, No. 15—Bill George.

Hyndman Stretches Streak; Zihlman Takes Second Place

Hyndman continues along its merry way while Zihlman and Grantsville picked up ground in the fight for a playoff berth in the Pen-Mar Baseball League yesterday.

The Merchants slugged out 19 safeties in handing winless Flintstone its 15th setback, with a 19-3 trimming at Hyndman. The victory was the seventh in a row for manager Gene single, Glass also had two hits and Jack Brant blasted a three-bagger for Wellersburg.

Reds' Rally Falls

Centerville staged a 5-run rally in the ninth inning but this was not enough to overcome the 5-0 victory in the game at Grantsville. The game ended when Toby Law dug a wild throw out of a dirt at first base for the final out.

Robert Keister, who beat Mt. Savage, 9-5, in the only league game on Saturday, came back yesterday, hurled another nine innings and won his second game in as many days. He struck out eight and gave up two bases on balls. Bob also collected three hits in four trips, including a cause with an 8-5 win over Wellersburg in a 12-inning battle at Hyndman.

Tommy Milavec hit a round-tripper with a home run and a single, Tommy Milavec hit a round-tripper with a home run and a single, Tommy Milavec hit a round-tripper with a home run and a single.

Bob "Ab" See won his first game since May 12 in selling down Flintstone for the Merchants. He worked eight innings, fanned nine and was on top by his runs when Merle Kiermer took over in the ninth.

Skipper Stair hit an inside-the-park homer with the bases loaded in the fifth frame and also helped himself to a double and a single. Clay Leydig garnered three safeties while Cliff Clites, John Keller, Pete Deremer, Bob Bryant and See had two blows each. Clites smacked a triple and Keller a two-bagger.

Bill Haberlein had a perfect day at the plate for Flintstone, rapping two doubles and three singles in five official trips. Dwight Morris hit safely twice for the Farmers.

Five-Hit Shutout

The best pitched game of the day was credited to Dawson, Zihlman twirler, who whitewashed Mt. Savage. He yielded only five hits and struck out ten. Mt. Savage batters in winning his third against four losses.

Zihlman won the game in the sixth inning when Rickey Harris, first up, slammed a home run. Paul "Bubbles" Thompson tripped and Joe Conroy singled.

Tom Lewis went the route for Mt. Savage, gave up six hits, fanned three and suffered his third successive setback. He won the first five games he pitched.

Thompson and Conroy of Zihlman and Joe Langan of Mt. Savage had two hits each.

A balk by Joe Glass in the top of the 12th with runners on third and second sent over the run that broke a 3-3 deadlock and paved the way for Wellersburg's defeat. Before the side was retired the Old Exports scored two more runs on Paul Shaffer's walk, George Thomas' single, Jesse Markley's infield out and a costly overthrow.

Markley, who came on in the eighth as successor to Jim McGregor, was credited with the win, his second against one defeat. Glass, who supplanted Russ Jones in the seventh, was tagged with the loss.

Ronnie Cage pounded a homer, double and single and Gaben McGregor lapped two doubles and a single for Barretville. Bob Cessna obtained a double and

Bi-State Pony All-Star Tilt Wednesday

The annual Bi-State Pony Baseball League All-Star game will be staged Wednesday evening at Frostburg. Plans, player selections and other details for the game will be worked out at a meeting of the managers tomorrow, 8 p. m., at the Frostburg City Hall.

The eight-team circuit has again been divided into East and West with Ellerslie, Cresaptown, Corriganville and LaVale representing the East while players from Midland, Frostburg, Mt. Savage and Lonaconing will perform for the West.

Curtis Hickie, pilot of the pacying Ellerslie club, will manage the East Stars with Howard Morris, Mt. Savage pilot, in charge of the West. Managers from the other three clubs on both squads will serve as assistants.

The East won last year's contest, 6-1, at Mt. Savage, getting five runs in the last two frames with the hit being called at the end of eight innings because of rain.

Five players and a pitcher from each club will be chosen with the game to be a nine-inning affair and hurlers being allowed to work only three frames.

A full schedule is carded for the loop this evening as Ellerslie and Lonaconing, both seeing their long win streaks broken Friday evening, clash at Coney. Ellerslie had not lost in 11 starts until being beaten, 17-10, by Mt. Savage while Coney's string of eight was halted by Cresaptown, 1-0.

Runnerup Mt. Savage, now only a game back with 10 wins and two setbacks, will be host to Cresaptown (6-6) while Midland (3-3) is at Corriganville (1-11) and Frostburg (3-9) is invaded by LaVale (5-7).

All games start at 6 p. m.

Cardinals Increase Lead With Twin Win Over Reds

By TONY GALLI
NEW YORK (JNS)—Cincinnati's "All-Star" team doesn't faze St. Louis' dandy Cardinals.

The Redbirds, with only Stan Musial representing them when "Play Ball" is called tomorrow at Busch Stadium, pinned a double loss yesterday on the Reds, five of whom will start in the 24th baseball classic. The Cardinals, wins-3 to 2 in ten innings and 9 to 6 gave them a sweep of the four-game series, enabled them to perch more firmly atop the National League with a 2½-game edge over Milwaukee and dropped Cincinnati from second to fourth, 3½ games off the pace.

Milwaukee moved into the runnerup spot with a 4-to-2 victory over Chicago and Philadelphia moved into the No. 3 spot with twin conquests of Brooklyn, 5 to 3, and 4 to 2. Pittsburgh climbed out of the cellar with a doubleheader sweep of New York, 10 to 6, and 8 to 1, as Frank Thomas hammered three home runs.

Clubs Gain Ground

The Yankees came from behind to beat Washington, 7 to 5, but lost half a game in the standings when Chicago pounded Cleveland, 7 to 2, after going 13 innings to win the opener, 9 to 8. Connie Johnson went all the way for Baltimore as the Orioles defeated Boston's Tom Brewer, 3 to 4, and home runs by Charley Maxwell and Al Kaline helped Paul Foytack to a 5-to-2 victory over Kansas City at Detroit.

Joe Cunningham drove in all three runs in the Cardinals' opening victory, one of them with a homer. Sam Jones won in relief over Brooks Lawrence.

The Cardinals exploded five runs off Hal Jeffcoat in the first inning of the nightcap and wrapped up the four-game series when Wally Moon, benched for weak hitting, slammed his 15th home run with a man aboard in the fifth. Moon, Bobby Gene Smith and Hobie Landrith accounted for all the Cardinal scoring, the latter two also hitting homers. Pete Whisenand hit two homers for Cincinnati, which planned the loss on Vinegar Bend Mizell.

Braves Over Million Mark
Lew Burdette won his sixth with a six-hitter before a crowd of 33,615 fans which pushed Milwaukee's home attendance over the one-million mark. Back-to-back triples by Wes Covington and Frank Torre highlighted the three-run first inning against Dave Hillman.

The locals' final home match in league play will be Sunday, July 11, against Keyser. It is hoped, however, to schedule a non-league encounter with Meyersdale later.

Town Council Lists Sewer Line Rulings

WESTERNPORT — The Town Council, with Mayor Okey Michael presiding, took action on several public improvements at a recent meeting.

It was ordered that residents of Foundry Row will be required to tap a new sewer, an eight-inch line which will empty into Georges Creek. This sewer will be about 700 feet in length and will be the farthest sewer up Georges Creek.

Ray L. Will, commissioner of sewers and public property, slated the pipe for that job and 200 feet of sewer on Greene and Baughman Street in the vicinity of Robert Benneer's residence has been ordered.

Kenneth Fazenbaker, Greene Street, said the curbing placed in front of his residence was not a first class job and also complained about seven feet that was removed and put down in the same place.

Maurence Brundige, street commissioner, stated the price for the work was not as high as they had to pay for some work later and there was a reason why part was taken up and replaced but could not remember since a long period had passed since it was done. Fazenbaker stated he would pay for all of it but did not think he should have to pay for the curbing that was removed and replaced.

The town is considering better lighting for Main Street and has contacted Potomac Edison Company. The company will have a representative discuss the type of better lighting with the town officials in the near future.

An ordinance was introduced to prevent business places on Main Street from placing their sweepings from the store and pavement onto Main Street after employees of the street department have swept it each morning.

Mayor Michael stated that he had asked them not to do this after the streets have been swept but some continue this practice.

Also considered is the passing of a more strict ordinance requiring residents of the town to remove snow on their sidewalks after snowfalls.

Mayor Michael announced that a telephone had been ordered to be placed in the town's storage garage for use of Bert Reid, street superintendent. It was also ordered that the roof of the city building be painted.

Two applications for employment have been received. Edward Moffett seeks work in the police department and Cecil Otis Preston, Spruce Street, seeks town employment.

Mrs. Katherine Dailey, town clerk, who has been working part time since May 1 and since July 1 on full time following a leave of absence account of ill health was welcomed at the first council meeting she has attended for over two years.

George P. DeWitt, town clerk during her absence will work the rest of the month and after that a part time clerk will be employed to assist Mrs. Dailey.

Utter Confusion Nets Small Slam

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South's two-club bid was Slayman and North's two no-trump showed a maximum major suit. From then on the bidding may best be described as utter confusion.

North thought his partner was showing strength and South was trying vainly to get off the hook. By the time they reached six, East and West were ready to double and all South could do was try to make the best of a bad contract.

West opened the ace of clubs. I can't really blame him, although the result was most unfortunate. South ruffed and promptly tried the diamond finesse. When it worked South saw that there was some chance to make the hand and proceeded to play as if he was peaking in the opponents' hands.

Opening lead—A

A second club was trumped and a second diamond finesse worked. A third club was ruffed and a third diamond led to dummy. When both opponents followed South saw daylight ahead.

He trumped the fourth and last club with his ten of trumps. East and West had to follow. A spade was led to dummy's ace and dummy's last diamond ruffed with the ace of trumps.

Since West held the jack of trumps there was no way to keep dummy from making all his three trumps and while South had to lose a spade he had succeeded in making eight trump tricks, one spade and three diamonds. Since 12 tricks are all he needed, the slam was home.

For Tuesday, July 9, 1957: MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — All matters may not run smoothly today but the added effort you'll need to put forth should make work exciting and satisfying. All good effort will be rewarded, give fresh incentive to continue.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer) — This promises to be an intriguing and possibly beneficial period — with your intelligent help, deep emotions under control, be reasonable in your demands and you will win.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo) — A pleasant time, and you should improve and exploit your talents and abilities. Do not be domineering, however, or insist on having your own way. Harmonious cooperation will prove profitable.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo) — A good period to check and make improvements where needed. Familiar activities should run smoothly, but don't crowd yourself or undertake more than you do.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra) — Friendly rays. You can receive unusual aid, advantages if you stick to them. Work for them. This day strongly promotes ability, finance, skilled work of various kinds.

OCTOBER 22 to NOVEMBER 21 (Scorpio) — Do not become prey to discouragement. It dwarfs ambition, belittles the mind. This can be a grand day if you direct your activities as cleverly as you so well can.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn) — Similar to Scorpio today. Household duties, your occupational interests, church and family affairs especially honored.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Going to extremes is always hazardous, but be especially careful today. If you plan and act wisely, proceeding at a steady, ambitious pace, you can have real achievement.

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces) — Much is up to you and the extent of your obligations. Maintain an even tempo, pay close attention to details, and you will save yourself from needless errors. Have faith.

YOU BORN TODAY are very talented, like to be intellectually active; are colorful in the way you do things. You are interested in people and the good things in life; may seem to want to dominate at times; may be only because you like to be helpful. Do not keep up too strenuous a pace. Learn how to relax and how to rest at the proper time; and don't feel associated only with fine persons, those with sound principles and ambitions. ## Youth Saved At Park Pool By Lifeguard

George Hare, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hare, 2 Elizabeth Street, was saved from drowning yesterday at Constitution Park when he was pulled from the pool by a lifeguard.

Attaches at Memorial Hospital today reported the Hare youth in "good" condition.

John Morris Jr., 12, of 1404 Frederick Street, head lifeguard at the pool, pulled Hare from the water and applied artificial respiration to bring him around.

Hare was unconscious when found at the bottom of the pool by Morris, a graduate of Camp Luthery National Red Cross school of water safety.

Morris said later he was told by young Hare's brother that Hare couldn't swim. The lifeguard said he didn't know whether the youth had jumped in the deep water or had fallen into the pool.

Two younger children at the pool told Morris that "there's a man lying on the bottom of the pool" to give the first warning to the lifeguard that something was amiss. Apparently nobody had seen Hare go into the pool, Morris stated.

Joel Smith, who recently obtained his Red Cross lifesaving certificate at Central YMCA, was able to get Hare's tongue, which had been swallowed, out of his throat and Morris was able to begin artificial respiration.

In a few minutes they had the victim breathing normally, treated him for shock, and bundled him up, putting him into an ambulance which rushed the boy to the hospital.

"I was scared to death," Morris said afterwards, "I felt sure he was gone."

Finance Commissioner John J. Long told the Mayor and Council today that Morris should be commended and deserves "a lot of credit" for his rescue work. His job certainly speaks well for his training and devotion to duty.

Long said, pointing out that Morris had been appointed as lifeguard only a week ago.

"The fact that the boy's life was saved also emphasizes the importance of lifesaving training given by the American Red Cross," Long added.

Gene Mason, city recreation director, also commended Morris for his rescue work.

IKE CHATS WITH SEN. BEALL—President Eisenhower swaps stories about Maryland with three guests from the Free State during an almost half an hour informal conversation recently at his private White House office. The visitors were Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.) of Frostburg, left, and two of the President's "neighbors" when he is at his Gettysburg farm, the Right Rev. William F. Culhane, second from left, and Right Rev. John L. Sheridan, both of Emmitsburg.

Msgr. Sheridan is president of Mount St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg, and Msgr. Culhane is vice president. Although the White House said the college officials invited the President to the college's 150th anniversary exercises which will be part of the school's 150th anniversary celebration, the visitors would say only they had paid "a friendly call to a neighbor from Mt. St. Mary's Seminary."

Murder Trial Begins For Laborer

WESTMINSTER, Md.—Alfred Fidazzo, husky construction worker charged with murdering his common-law wife, went on trial here today before a Carroll County Circuit Court jury of six men and six women.

The selection of a jury was completed at about 11:30 a. m., less than two hours after the court met. The trial was transferred here from Anne Arundel County at the request of the defendant.

Results of a lie detector test given the 38-year-old sewer construction worker will not be admitted as evidence in his trial. Circuit Judge James B. Boyland ruled the test records out after objections were raised by State's Attorney C. Osborne Duvall.

Fidazzo is charged in the slaying of his common-law wife, Mrs. Marcia June Novak, 27.

Her body was found last April 20 in the house she shared with Fidazzo at Forest Glen, about 10 miles north of Annapolis. A necktie was knotted tightly around her throat.

The body was discovered behind a draped blanket only after Anne Arundel police had checked the house several times. Fidazzo surrendered to police 12 hours later.

Defense attorneys C. Rowie Rose of Glen Burnie and Eugene Walsh of Westminster had asked that the lie detector record be admitted. Maryland law provides such results cannot be introduced unless both defense and prosecution agree.

Judge Boylan also denied a defense request for access to a statement given police by Mrs. Novak's 10-year-old son, Philip. He was believed to have been in the house at the time of the slaying.
